HORRIBLE CRIME.

Mother Kills Her New-Born Babe and Hangs it in a Sack on a Fence.

The Hopkinsville Kentuckian says: A most horrible crime was brought to light Thursday afternoon by the discovery by children of a dead body in a coffee sack on a fence in the rear of the home of Mr. C. S. Jarrett, on South Walnut street, some distance from the house, and separating Sharpsfield.

The details are almost too revolting to chronicle. A sack containing something was noticed on the back fence Wednesday by some colored people, but no attention was paid to it. Thursday afternoon, the curiosity of a negro woman was excited to such a pitch that she sent some children to see what the sack contained. When they took it from the fence and opened it they found, wrapped in rags, a dead new-born child. The police were at once notified and officer Merritt was sent out to investigate. Coroner Allensworth was also called and buried the child.

Yesterday morning the coroner disinterred the child and summoned Dr. Jackson to hold a post mortem examination. He responded to the call and took Dr. Woodward with him. Their evidence before the coroner's jury was, after examining the lungs and brain, that the infant had been murdered, either by being struck in the face with some heavy substance or that the inhuman mother had taken it by the heels and struck it against something. Dr. Jackson says that the child was about 8 pounds in weight and had undoubtedly lived after birth. It was a girl but the physicians cannot state as to whether it was white or black.

There is at present no indication as to who the murderer is, but coroner Allensworth is going to use every effort to bring the inhuman wretch to justice, and we learn that he has some hope of doing so.

2290 Acres Pledged.

Springfield, Ky., Jan. 21.—Washington county tobacco growers have pooled 2,290 acres of tobacco. This tobacco is being received by the A. S. of E. Barns have been rented and the banks of Springfield are advancing 50 per cent. on the crop when delivered to the Society of Equity. Eighteen thousand dollars have been subscribed for the purpose of building a tobacco warehouse and work will soon begin.

Would Give $200,000,000 for a Lease on Life.

New York, Jan. 21.—A Philadelphia dispatch to the Sun says that near the end of the Clover Club's twenty-fifth anniversary dinner there recently, Col. A. K. McClure the aged editor, dean of the club and its Ex-President, made a speech in which he declared fear of old age. He said: "Old age has nothing in it to fear. When death calls to me I shall not be afraid."

Col. McClure continued: "After dining with Mr. Carnegie once, he said to me that he would give $200,000,000 to have a lease on life. 'Two hundred millions, Alec,' he said to me; 'that is what I would give for a lease on this life. I am not hogish, either. I would give it for ten years only.' I don't think Carnegie is afraid of death, but he clings to life. There is a difference. I said: 'And you would be unbooned at that price.'"

The Right Name.

Mr. August Sharpe, the popular overseer of the poor, at Fort Madison, Ia., says: Dr. King's New Life Pills are rightly named; they act more agreeably, do more good and make one feel better than any other laxative. Guaranteed to cure biliousness and constipation. 25c at J. H. Williams' drug store.

Realizes the Truth and Will Work for It.

Mr. E. A. Patridge, President of the Grain Growers' Grain Company of Winnipeg, Canada, writes: The Secretary of our company and myself took a membership in the Society of Equity a short time ago. The Grain Growers' Grain Company, of which I am President, is a farmers organization, no one but farmers being eligible to membership. Our capital stock is $250,000 and we have been in business since the first of September. We have about 1,000 shareholders, and have handled about a million and a quarter bushels of grain. In a dim way I recognize that the grain must be put on the market through the agency of a company composed of the producers before we can hope to realize fair values for it; also that it must be put on the market in quantities suitable to the immediate demand, or else it will pass into the hands of speculators at low prices and afterwards go to the consumers at high prices. The principle of controlled marketing which the Society of Equity is striving to bring into play, appears to be a good one, and I would be glad to see the Society spread and prosper.

I will be pleased, as I come in contact with our shareholders at public meetings, to direct their attention to the Society of Equity, and advise them to study its aims and objects, and, if satisfied, to become members therein.

To the People of Ohio County.

I desire to express many thanks for the uniform courtesy and kindness extended to myself and deputies during the past year by the public.

The severity of the recent tax law, together with the short time after its passage until I was forced to collect the tax, made the task exceptionally difficult and the credit of its achievement, if any, is largely due to the faithful and untiring efforts of my field deputies, and while this office is compelled to collect the present year's taxes under the same law, I hope that a more general understanding of the law, and its requirements and penalties, will bring a prompt response, to the official call for taxes.

Repentant Thief.

Cleveland, Ohio, January 20.—A thief who entered the home of Mr. Cullha, 2157 East Eighteenth street, for the purpose of robbery, had gathered a quantity of jewelry together, when his eye fell upon a Catholic prayer book. He took the book, but left the jewelry, also this explanatory note:

"My mother brot me up a Catholic. I made myself a thief. The book made me think of her, and wat i ust to be. So i couldnt steal nuttin, but i tuk the book to help me reform."

Another Card of Thanks.

Certainly no pastor ever had more to thank the members and friends of his churches for than I. A nice dinner for Thanksgiving and a box of nice things for Christmas were given us by the good people of Hartford, and now the good people of my church at Beaver Dam have made us a large donation of nice canned fruit, preserves, jelly, jam, sausages, dry goods, candy for the children, etc.

My family joins me in thanking the dear people for these useful things. May the Lord who loveth the cheerful giver and who said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," bless them all in both spiritual and temporal things.

A. B. Gardner and Family.

Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting—nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet pleasant and safe Syrup, called Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure is for Croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for Croup, that's all. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., J. H. Williams.

PITIFUL STORY

Of Woman Driven to Insanity by Crimes of Members of Her Family.

A dispatch in the Cincinnati Enquirer is as follows:

Lexington, Ky., January 21.—Mrs. Catherine Deal, of Greenup county, has been brought here and placed in the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum in a hopelessly insane condition. Mrs. Deal is 60 years old, and lost her mind from worrying over the criminal tendencies of her immediate family, which led Samuel Deal, her husband, Charles, William, John and Jerry Deal, her sons, to commit crimes which have landed them in penitentiaries in three States, Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana.

All are now in prisons serving sentences of from one to 20 years. Mrs. Deal herself has been in prison charged with stealing, but was released some time ago.

Up to a few years ago the Deal family was one of the best known in Eastern Kentucky. Finally one of the boys was arrested charged with stealing. He served a term in jail, and upon his release committed more thefts. From that time on the entire family was connected with different crimes.

They operated along Licking, Big Sandy, Red and the Ohio rivers. Their methods of operation were unique. They would steal goods from people living along Red river, ship them to some point on the Big Sandy river for storage, and later would peddle the goods along the Ohio river. This continued for several years.

A year ago officers from West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana combined in an effort to capture the men, and finally succeeded. Mrs. Deal was also taken in the roundup but was later released. Samuel Deal and the four sons were imprisoned and then Mrs. Deal's mind began to fail, with the result that she is now in an asylum here.

Mother and Her Three Babies in One Coffin.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., January 21.—Yesterday Mrs. McClure, wife of John McClure, a merchant of Peebles, Bath county, gave birth to three children, all of whom died in a short time. The mother died also. They were all buried in the same coffin to-day.

Starving Chinese Eating Their Own Children.

Victoria, B. C., January 21.—Further advices received from Shanghai tell of increasing horrors from the great famine in Central China. A correspondent of the Echo de Chine says that in two districts, Sincow and Paichow, starving people are eating their children. Plants and grass, which have furnished food for many, have disappeared, and there are not even roots to eat. The famine-stricken people are being driven back to the cities in the famine district, the officials refusing to allow refugees to take the roads. The correspondent says the cases of cannibalism are many. He investigated a number and many of them are absolutely correct. In the absence of ordinary food he found human flesh actually being sold.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing and satisfying. It's safe even for the youngest child. Sold by Gross Williams.

Skeleton Buried Under Blind Tiger.

Crab Orchard, Ky., Jan. 19.—A crew of men working on the grading for double tracks on the L. and N. between Livingston and East Bernstadt, made a grewsome find this week. While digging at the spot where a "blind tiger" stood several years ago, they unearthed the skeleton of a man. There is no clew as to the identity of the man, but it is almost certain that he was a stranger who was murdered and buried by the gang that made the place infamous for a long time. The place is near Altamont, a mining town, from which the sudden disappearance of a strange miner would have attracted no attention.

Not far from the same place some years ago, the skeleton of a man was found under a cliff, and a sensation was created by the efforts of citizens and officers to unravel the mystery. This and other bloody deeds that were perpetrated during the reign of terror created by the blind tiger and its habits have been vividly recalled by the finding of the skeleton.

Hartford College Notes.

The second week of the new term finds all classes organized and everything in good working order. Teachers and students seem earnest and enthusiastic in their work.

The new seats arrived and were placed in the study hall Monday evening. This will enable a large body of the students to sit in the study hall, and the remainder will be seated in rooms across the hall.

The reception which was to have been given Friday evening of the present week has been postponed one week on account of the protracted meetings, which are now in progress, and the reception will be given Friday evening, February 1st. All students and patrons are cordially invited to be present.

Nine new students matriculated in the Collegiate department at the beginning of the second week. The names of new students are as follows: Will Griffith, Wayne Midkiff, Otis Rock, Eunice Rock, Georgia Coghill, Helen Whittinghill, Grace Whittinghill, Myrtle Brown and Anna Dan-tiel.

Names of students in other departments are: Edgar Moreland, Gladys Utey and Claude Maples.

The leaders in examinations held at close of second term's work in Collegiate department were as follows: Class in Cicero, J. W. Marks; Geology, Roy Bennett; Adv. Algebra, Mary Marks; Caesar, Roy Bennett; Beginning Latin, Sadie Henry; General History, Raymer Tinsley; Am. Literature, Sadie Henry; Grammar, Arthur Burdette; Eng. Lit., Frank Foreman and J. W. Marks; Arithmetic, Irene Miller, Owen Brown, Jesse Smith and Ben Patterson; Elocution, Sadie Henry.

Fined for Shaking an Apple Tree.

Sergeant, Ky., Jan. 21.—Charged with shaking apples from a neighbor's apple trees on Colly Creek in this county, Elijah Stallard, Elihu Stallard and Columbus Haynes were tried in the Letcher Circuit Court at Whitesburg, and fined $30 each. It was perhaps one of the most novel suits ever tried in this court.

Equity Strong in Warren.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 21.—The American Society of Equity is growing in this county and its members are displaying an activity that shows they are very much in earnest. A large number of tobacco growers are already in the society, and they are its most active members. They will select a site at an early date and erect a large building in this city, in which the tobacco will be stored until it has been sold by the proper officials of the society. Other houses for the same purpose may be built in other sections of the county, but the main building will be in this city, and the greater part of the entire crop raised by the members of the society will be stored here.

True to His Religion.

Elgin, Ill., January 17.—Loren Baker, who in addition to being an agent for the American Express Company is a devout Christian, with the courage of his convictions, to-day resigned his position with the company rather than deliver a package containing tobacco. Baker holds, among other beliefs, that tobacco and whisky are evils not to be compromised with, and his belief would not permit him to place in the hands of another man the means of becoming a slave to the weed. Consequently he handed in his resignation, which was accepted.

Why

Should your baby suffer? When he is fretful and restless, don't experiment on him and use any old thing your neighbor recommends. Buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, greatest known worm medicine and cure for all children's diseases. It is mild in its action, builds up the system, makes thin, puny babies fat. Mrs. J. C. Smith, Tampa, Fla., writes: "My baby was thin and sickly, could not retain its food and cried all night. I used one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and in a few days baby was laughing, happy and well." For sale by J. H. Williams.

FALSE PROPHETS

And a Parable Concerning Them—The Days of High Water on Rough Creek.

The Elizabethtown News says:

Now in those days there arose divers and sundry false prophets near the head waters of Rough creek, and prophesied by metes and bounds, saying to what fullness the said stream in the future should rise. And there came one Jim Holbert, saying that a certain bridge which was built of wood and iron across that stream, should forever be above its high-water mark. But it came to pass that when the floods came and the waters rose, that bridge was lifted from its moorings and beaten furiously down the current of that stream.

And there also arose a certain Shipley, being the same that was called Bob, and prophesied, saying that a certain house which he had erected for him and his should be for all time beyond floods of that stream. And behold when the rains descended and the waters came up, that false prophet was rescued with a rope from an upper window.

And there came also one Quince Johnson, who for greater certainty was called the Aesop of Elizabethtown, being the same that was a member of the Fiscal Court in that day when the bridge was built, and prophesied unto that court, saying that the same stream should never again rise above a certain mark. And it came to pass that the waters did rise much above that same mark, and wipe it from the earth, and that prophet, like unto the others, fell, and great was the fall of him.

Called to Meet.

The Green River Tobacco Growers' Association is called to meet in Owensboro on Friday, February 1, 1907, at 10 o'clock a. m. Each county in the district is entitled to one delegate for each local. Object of the meeting is the discussion of the acreage and other questions.

Kentucky Bride Attempted to End Her Life.

A special to the Cincinnati Enquirer from St. Louis, under date January 21, says:

Fearing she had made a mistake in marrying a man who wooed and won her by correspondence, Mrs. Leonora Dooley, nee Wood, aged 38, of Heath, Ky., a bride of a week, fled from her husband at the Union Station, and shrieking at the top of her voice, tore at the bars of the closed train gate in an effort to get through and end her life beneath the wheels of a train. She was caught and held by Patrolman Wardenki, who heard her scream that she wished to kill herself. She was taken to the City Hospital, where she is under observation. Her husband, John Dooley, aged 50, of Kiowa, Kan., accompanied her to the hospital. He was taking her from her home in Heath to his 360-acre farm near Kiowa.

Court Says Judge Carnes is Competent to Sit in Hargis Case.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 19.—There was a big crowd in the court room of the Court of Appeals yesterday when Judge J. P. Hobson read the opinion of the court denying the writ of prohibition asked against Judge Carnes holding the Hargis trial at Jackson.

Judge Hobson gave it as the court's opinion that it was not necessary that the special Judge be a resident of the district, and that Judge Carnes was qualified and competent to sit in the case; that as special Judge he had all the powers of the regular Judge; it was not necessary that the regular Judge of the district should call the special terms, as he had declined to sit in the case at all; the special Judge, by section 911, is given all the powers of the regular Judge; the act of 1906 is an amendment to the section 964, and does not repeal the provisions of 971; that the court was regularly constituted; that the action of the Circuit Judge in ov-erruling the motion of the Commonwealth for a continuance was evidently based on the grounds that witnesses could be secured, and his judgment in this matter seems to have been verified by the facts; that the Circuit Judge must exercise a sound discretion as to continuances, nothing in this record to indicate an abuse of his discretion; that Judge Carnes' position is correct as to quashing the indictment, and the indictment is good; that under the facts shown the Circuit Judge did not abuse a sound discretion in declining to appoint an elisor in lieu of the Sheriff's; that he acted properly; that the court had the right to try cases as they stood on the docket, but that the jurors should have been drawn from the wheel; that the petition for a writ be dismissed.

Hartford Couple Married in Owensboro.

The Owensboro Inquirer says: Miss Bertie Woodward and Mr. Karl A. Anderson, of Hartford, were married Saturday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Norris, at Fifth and Center streets. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. B. Self in the presence of a few friends. The bride looked very pretty in a white mull made over taffeta, and with a tulle veil.

Mrs. Anderson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Woodward, of Hartford and is much admired by a large circle of friends. Mr. Anderson is a son of Mr. R. A. Anderson, of Hartford, and the brother of Mrs. Luther Norris and of Mr. J. A. Anderson, of Owensboro, and is a popular young man. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will make their future home at Hartford.

The Herald joins with their many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Anderson the fullest measure of life's joys.

Warning Posted by "Blind Tiger" Men.

Paris, Ky., Jan. 21.—At Millersburg this county, where the new local option law recently became effective, cards were found tacked to store doors and on trees bearing the following inscription: "We won't stand a hundred dollar fine. We are going to sell whiskey; don't hunt us down; if you do, look out." (Signed) "Negroes." Tecumseh King, colored, was fined $100 and costs for violating the law. Constable Linville, the arresting officer, was presented with a purse by citizens.

Falling Tree Kills Farmer.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Jan. 21.—While Courtland Kasey, a well known farmer and tobacco buyer of Rosetta, this county, was returning from Big Spring at night, a tree fell upon him, killing both him and his horse. Not until the next morning were the lifeless remains found.

Town Taxes Due.

The town taxes of Hartford are now due and I am now ready to collect same. Please do not neglect this matter. Seth Moseley, 214 Marshal.
